EIP named Patent Prosecution Law Firm of the Year in England

EIP is delighted to have been named Patent Prosecution Law Firm of the Year in England by the editors of Corporate INTL Magazine.

Corporate INTL's annual global awards recognise excellence in expertise and service among the world's leading professional service providers.

The awards are based upon research carried out amongst the business community, including partners of international law firms, senior managers of public and private businesses, in-house counsel, and finance professionals.
