Stephen Scott to speak at Japanese-English Translation Conference

Senior associate Stephen Scott has been invited to speak at the 26th International Japanese-English Translation (IJET) Conference.

Stephen, who is based in the EIP office in Leeds and is a fluent speaker of Japanese, will talk on the role of translation in patent law.

The conference is an annual event hosted by the Japan Association of Translators for members of the translating and interpreting industry. The event takes place at York St John University from 19-21 June.
