

p1

EIP

EIP hires patent search specialist

EIP has bolstered its EIP Search practice with the hire of an experienced patent searcher.

Nathan Pennington joined EIP after more than 14 years in the search division of an international specialist search company.

He conducts novelty, validity and clearance searches in a number of technical fields including electro-mechanical systems, medical devices, automotive technologies, heavy engineering, packaging, and business and database systems.