

EIP

EIP host One Nucleus BioWednesday

EIP will host a 'BioWednesday' seminar for the One Nucleus life sciences network on the theme of Developing and Commercialising Cell-based Platforms.

The event takes place at EIP's London office on 3 June from 4.45pm-8.30pm. Speakers include Andrew Sharples, partner and head of EIP Life, Davide Danovi, director, HipSci Cell Phenotyping Programme, Kings College London and Sarah Hoyle, research scientist at Epistem.

The presentations will be followed by a Q&A discussion, drinks and networking. For more information or to register, visit the event page.