EIP present “What a chemist needs to know about patents” at SCI

EIP will be holding a one-day workshop at SCI London on Monday 23 April 2018. The workshop will look into what a chemist needs to know about patents and will cover all aspects of patentability.

EIP's Darren Smyth and Robert Lundie Smith will be speaking and sharing their extensive knowledge. They will be joined by Jen Le Mière of Kymab, and Eifion Phillips of Fish & Richardson. The programme will cover ownership, specifications, infringement and much more.

The event is open to members and non-members of SCI. To attend just register for the event here.
