EIP to hold IP Clinic at Venturefest 2012

EIP's experts will be giving free intellectual property advice during an IP Clinic at Venturefest 2012.

Visitors can receive advice on the range of protection available for their intellectual property rights, including patents, trademarks and designs, as well as IP strategy.

Venturefest 2012 is a free event taking place at the UWE Conference Centre in Bristol on 7 November. It aims to attract early-stage technology businesses looking for support and advice to kick start their business idea.

EIP's IP Clinic takes place from 11.15am-1.15pm, and will feature a one-hour presentation, followed by a drop-in session for the final hour during which attendees will be able to speak to a patent attorney from EIP. To register for the IP Clinic, click here.
